

Link: <http://www.abouttimemagazine.co.uk/food/halloween-in-london-2016-about-time-foodie-guide/>

ABOUT TIME

For Halloween Afternoon Tea: Podium

The Lowdown: This Autumn, London Hilton on Park Lane has a frightfully good treat in store for visitors to the luxury hotel, as they have launched a spellbinding Halloween-themed afternoon tea. Guests can delight in a wickedly delicious selection of freshly prepared sandwiches with classic fillings, along with a tempting array of delicacies, the bewitching afternoon tea will be sure to have you under a spell.

The Venue: Located on Park Lane, the iconic Hilton hotel's in-house restaurant Podium is an all-day restaurant and bar. Podium is a perfect location for sophisticated celebrations this Halloween – a great place to take your mum, girlfriends or other half for a refined afternoon of sweet feasting.

The Food: Nothing says Halloween in London like cake, right? The Spooktacular Afternoon Tea is available from 24th-31st October. The treats available include mango mousse with raspberry, spooky chocolate parfait with praline feuilletine, elderflower jelly eye ball on chocolate sponge and green apple gel with white chocolate. Served with traditional plain, fruit and chocolate scones presented with jam, clotted cream and chocolate praline spread accompanied by a carefully chosen selection of top ranked teas from Twinings.

Where: Podium Restaurant and Bar, 22 Park Lane, London, W1K 1BE